Gin Lane by William Hogarth.

- Opener: The common people of England in extreme poverty and, often enough, utter destitution and degradation...
- Question: Is this an accurate portrayal of the Reformation?

The Reformation

Essential Questions:

- 1) What were the political, economic, and religious causes of the Reformation? Why was the Church accused of becoming too rich, powerful, and corrupt?
- 2) How did reformers propose to change the corrupt practices of the Catholic Church? What were some of their major ideas?
- 3) What was the political, economic, and religious impact of the Reformation? What was the Counter Reformation?

Europe in the 16th Century

- Within Europe there are two leading families whose lands border each other: the Habsburgs (Spain and Germany) and Valois (France).
- From the Netherlands all the way down through Italy, these two mighty dynasties battle for territory and influence, especially when the buffer state of Burgundy collapses following the death of Charles the Bold in 1475.
- Against this background, the clash between Ottomans and Christians, between Protestants against Catholics quickly emerge too and add their own flavour to Habsburg-Valois rivalry.
- For example, the French form alliances with the Muslim Turks and the Protestants against the Habsburg Holy Roman Emperor.

1. Iberia: Ruled by the Habsburgs

- Contains three Kingdoms – Portugal, Castile (very wealthy) and Aragon (rather poor).
- We use the term 'Spain' very loosely to refer to the area but this is dangerous, even though they become increasingly close throughout this period, following the marriage of Ferdinand of Aragon and Isabella of Castile (1469)
- This move towards a Spanish Nation State was accelerated by the defeat of a Portuguese invasion (1474) and the expulsion of the Jews and the Moors in 1492.

2. Holy Roman Empire: Ruled by the Habsburgs

- Roughly equates to present-day Germany (Switzerland was theoretically a part of it but, protected by natural frontiers, the Emperor had not been able to prevent its Cantons had joined in a confederation).
- Presided over by an Emperor, who is voted into the job for life by 7 Electors representing over 300 independent states, Free Towns and Imperial Cities.
- His role is defined by the 'Doctrine of the 2 Swords' – i.e. he represents the religious interests of the Church, and the secular interests of his Princes.
- This is problematic in both respects.
  - (a) Princes tried their best to prevent Emperors getting too much power (favour localism / particularism rather than universalism- we can find parallels here with the clash between pro-Europeans and Euro-sceptics) and resist their attempts at the Imperial Diet (Parliament) to raise either taxes or an Imperial Army or to obtain taxes except in dire emergencies
  - (b) Popes demand that Emperors make sure Churches in the HRE pay their taxes to Rome, even those are increasingly causing great unrest and resentment – which will ultimately lead to the Reformation.

3. France: Ruled by the Valois

- Has the largest area, biggest population and richest agriculture of any country
- Much of its strength owed to Louis XI (The 'Universal Spider'), who had conquered many outlying regions.
- Charles VIII, a dwarf, proceeds to conquer the whole of Italy in 1498;
- King Francis I is the major figure of our period though; he was a rival of Henry VIII who beat him in a wrestling match!
- But its administration, legal system and economy remained decentralised, and the country was torn apart by the Wars of Religion in the latter part of the century.
- Ended by Henry IV who famously converted to Catholicism to secure his position ('Paris is worth a mass') but was later assassinated.

4. Italy: Fought over by both families

- Like 'Spain', this is more of a geographical expression than a true state.
- Italy is in fact a mishmash of various States, each of which is fiercely competitive for political influence and the Mediterranean trade which it had developed during the Crusades.
- The competition and wealth of these city states (along with the development of modern warfare) was partly responsible not only for the Renaissance but for the devastating wars which ravaged the peninsula for most of our period. The 5 key states were -
  - Venice* – consisted of the lagoon city and territory on the mainland (briefly lost to invaders in 1509). Republic ruled by a 'Doge' and leading families, strong economy.
  - Milan* – the least stable; taken over by mercenaries (Visconti, then Sforza).
  - Florence* – dominated by the Medicis, although family feuds were common.
  - Papal States* – straddled central Italy, nominally ruled by Popes, who are trying to reassert their position in this period following the Great Schism; Alexander VI in particular tries to carve out a state for his son Cesare in the Romagna.
  - Naples* – poor feudal Kingdom battled over by France and Aragon.

5. Britain

- Then as now, Britain can be broken into Wales, Scotland, England and Ireland; although the theme of this period is England aiming to centralise control rather than devolve it; England has been in Civil War (the Wars of the Roses) for much of the previous 50 years (which also saw England lose all of its French possessions bar Calais) but is now finding stability under the Tudors.

6. Ottomans

- The greatest threat to the stability of Europe in this period, as far as the Christian countries were concerned, was the advance of the Muslim Turks, known as the Ottomans.
- As well as their terrifying success in capturing Constantinople in 1453, they made massive advances in Africa and the Balkans and used Barbary pirates to stifle Christian control of the Mediterranean – some felt that they were poised to take over Europe.
- Although traditionally regarded as a shady force on the periphery of European events, they were in fact inspired, disciplined and efficient administrators and warriors.
- Extra zeal was given firstly by the concept of Jihad or Holy War, and secondly by the fact that nobles had no independent power base (only holding land in return for service to the Sultan) - even the head of Government, the Grand Vizier, was a slave to the Sultan.

Other Underlying Causes of the Reformation

- The Renaissance—the literary and artistic movement of the 13th-16th centuries, often called the “rebirth” of western culture-- led people to question the authority of the church, to criticize the Church’s wealth, and place greater faith in human reason.
- The rise of nation-states led monarchs to resent the power of the pope in their countries.
- The Protestant Reformation:
- Religious movement , beginning in the 16th. C which protested practices of the Catholic Church.
  - To protest = To object
  - To reform = To change for the better

Reformation Giants

"And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me: Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins."

Leviticus 26:23-24

Martin Luther and the Reformation

- In 1517 a German priest named Martin Luther (1483-1546) started a movement called (eventually) the Reformation.
- Although initially unintended, the goal became to reform the Catholic Church.

Video Introduction: “The Protestant Reformation” (20 m)

- Qs. What motivated Martin Luther to fight against some of the practices of the Catholic Church? When the Pope asked Luther to recant, why didn't he and what was the result? How does Luther's vision differ from the beliefs of the Roman Catholic faith?

Martin Luther's 95 Theses

- In Wittenburg Germany Martin Luther posted a list of complaints against the Catholic Church called The Ninety-Five Thesis, or questions for debate.
- The Ninety-Five Thesis condemned the Catholic for :
  - Selling indulgences
  - Nepotism
  - Its interpretation of the Bible

Indulgences and Nepotism

- Indulgences were pardons for sins that could be purchased. It equaled paying for forgiveness.
- Nepotism: The Selling of positions of power within the Catholic Church.
- Martin Luther believed that faith alone guaranteed salvation (afterlife).

More Reforms Proposed by Luther

1. National, rather than Roman, control of church finances
2. Permission for the clergy to marry
3. a series of sacramental reforms which reduce the sacraments to Baptism, a reformed Mass, and the Holy Eucharist.

The Battle Between Luther and the Catholic Church...

Right: The Seven Headed Martin Luther.

Around 1530 a Lutheran cartoon was circulated in Germany which turned the papacy into the "seven-headed beast" of the Book of Revelation. The papacy's "seven heads" consist of pope, cardinals, bishops, and priests; the sign on the cross reads "for money, a sack full of indulgences"; and a devil is seen emerging from an indulgence chest below.

In response, a German Catholic propagandist showed Luther as Revelation's "beast." In the Catholic conception Luther's seven heads show him by turn to be a hypocrite, a fanatic, and "Barabbas"--the thief who should have been crucified instead of Jesus. (Lerner 459)

Activity Idea

Organise your class into two groups – Lutherans and Catholics. Each group then has to answer the following questions as best as they can by using this article.

To Lutherans	To Catholics
1. Justification: If God has already predestined who is to be saved, and we can't influence that decision, are you saying that Good Works are a complete waste of time and that we should not bother leading a moral life? Response:	1. Justification: Your doctrine of Justification by Works has led to the likes of Johann Tetzel effectively selling salvation in the form of indulgences in Germany. Are you then saying that God can be bribed into giving us Grace? Response:
2. The Bible: Your opponents claim that having the Bible in loads of vernacular versions – such as the one you published in 1522 – leads to confusion, contradiction and division between national churches. How do you defend your position? Response:	2. The Bible: Your opponents claim that having the Bible in Latin is exclusive and demeaning to those who cannot understand the language. How do you defend your position? Response:
3. The Priesthood: If you are so keen on a "Priesthood of all Believers" why is it that you encouraged the Princes to murder the Peasants who had picked up on your ideas in 1526? Response:	3. The Priesthood: How do you defend having a separate, elite clergy when this arguably leads to social divisions, harsh hierarchies and corruption at the highest levels? Response:
4. Ceremonies / Appearances: How can you possibly justify your insistence that there is still a "Real Presence" in the Eucharist, when this runs against everything you have said against the magic and superstition of the Catholic Church? Response:	4. Ceremonies / Appearances: How do you justify having seven sacraments when only three of them have any clear foundation in the Bible? How do you respond to the argument that images and the worship of saints detracts from the worship of Jesus Christ? Response:

John Calvin

- John Calvin, (1509-1564) conversely, believed all people deserved eternal punishment (hell) except for a few God had chosen in advance (predestination) to be saved. Nothing a person could do would change it. The "catch" was: the chosen would naturally act righteously.
- Advocated:
  1. Moral lives
  2. Hard Work
  3. Simple lives

Calvin and Calvinism: Timeline
1509	• Birth in Noyon, Northern France, the fourth son of a local lawyer and church official
1521	• Receives a Church Office to finance his education
1523	• Studies theology at the Sorbonne • Friendship with Humanists such as Olivetan and scholars such as Bude.
1528	• Studies law at Orleans. • Sharpens his mind, gives him great powers of exposition.
1531	• Returns to Paris on the death of his father. • Now concentrates on a religious rather than a legal career.
1532	• Publishes Latin commentary on Seneca's De Clementia – Humanist features revealed.
1533(?)	• Experiences a religious conversion: "By a sudden conversion, God subdued and reduced to docility my soul".
1534	• Calvin leaves France for Basle after his brother is executed as a heretic. • Meets Lefevre and other humanists on his travels.
1535	• Publishes his first edition of the Institutes of the Christian Religion – a clear and powerful statement of his theology. • Returns to France to collect his brother and sister, heads for Strasbourg but finds his route blocked by CV's armies.
1536	• Takes a detour through Geneva, a city of 16,000 inhabitants precariously balanced between Catholic Savoy and Protestant Berne. • Usually under the control of a Bishop, it has recently thrown off this yoke with the help of Berne, and so the City Council is now open to Reformist ideas. • Persuaded to stay by the reformer Guillaume Farel. Presents to the Council a proposal called "Articles concerning the Organisation of the Church and of Worship in Geneva".
1538-41	• Spends exile in Strasbourg. • Gets married to the widow of a former Anabaptist. • Much influenced by Martin Bucer, who anticipates Calvin's interest in predestination and a reformed ministry of pastors, teachers, elders and deacons.
1541	• Returns to Geneva unwillingly (says that he prefers the idea of death and calls the inhabitants "Perverse and ill-natured people") but convinced that he has been summoned by God. • Great public welcome.
1544	• Publishes Ecclesiastica! Ordinances, detailed survey of how church and state should be governed.

4. Divide this timeline into between 3 and 5 meaningful 'chapters'. Give each one (a) A title and (b) the dates it covers.

A COMPARISON OF LUTHERAN AND CALVINIST VIEWS OF PREDESTINATION

	Luther: The cosy version of predestination.	Calvin: The hardline version of predestination.
What is the relationship between man and God?	?	?
Who will be saved?	?	?
Can we acquire this faith, or are we created with it?	?	?
	"Single Predestination" Lutherans hold doctrinally to a view of single predestination. That is to say, desiring to save all fallen human beings, God sent his Son Jesus Christ to atone for the sins of the whole world on the cross. Those God saves have been predestined from eternity in Christ. Those who are condemned are condemned because of their fallen will.	"Double Predestination" That is, God decided to save, and to damn; he then determined that the fall of man into sin would accomplish His purpose.
	"Church Visible"  A term of Christian theology and ecclesiology referring to the visible community of Christian believers on Earth.	"Church Invisible"  A theological concept of an "invisible" body of the elect who are known only to God.

Up Next... Who was the real Henry VIII?

Henry VIII (1491-1547)

- King Henry VIII was not a true reformer, yet broke from the Catholic Church and the pope.
- When denied a divorce by the Pope, Henry issued the Act of Supremacy and created a national religion for England, known as the Anglican Church.
- He married six women in his attempt to produce a male heir to the throne. He executed three of them!
- He produced one male son, Edward VI; however, he died in his teens.

Any Ideas?

How Similar were the views of the Radical Reformers to those of Luther and Zwingli?

One of the reasons that the Radicals were considered so dangerous was because of their tendency towards apocalyptic predictions which agitated the general population (e.g. Melchior Hoffmann, Hans Hut, "King" Jan Matthys). However, beyond that general point, there were many more specific areas of difference with Luther and Zwingli (who only disagreed with each other about the exact nature of the eucharist).

	Luther / Zwingli	Radicals
Faith	Sola Fide ("Faith Alone") Luther and Zwingli both agreed that faith was the key to salvation, and that this faith was freely given by God and could not (as Catholics argued) be earned by performing Good Works.	The Radicals agreed with this analysis.
Scripture	Sola Scriptura To discover if one had this faith and was therefore predestined to go to heaven, one had to read the Bible to see if one believed in its teachings. Some radicals - e.g. those under "King" Jan and Matthys at Munster - agreed with this (they burned all books apart from the Bible)	Spiritualism Examples: Schwenkfeld, Karlstadt Unlike both Luther and Zwingli, some Radicals felt that the Bible was a "Paper Pope" which should be rejected in favour of direct communication with God through prayer (Spiritualism).
Priesthood	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Luther and Zwingli were of the opinion that all men were equal before the eyes of God when their souls had to be justified before him.</li> </ul>	Radicals agreed.

	Magisterial Reformation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Luther and Zwingli felt in matters of politics the Princes and Magistrates rather than the common mob should control events ("Magisterial Reformation").</li> </ul>	Popular Reformation Example: Müntzer, "King" Jan Radicals disagreed. If we are all equal before God, there is no divine reason why the peasants should be trodden on. They, indeed, should be the real leaders of the Reformation ("Popular Reformation")
Ceremonies	Child baptism <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Luther and Zwingli both agreed that Baptism, Penance and Eucharist were the only sacraments in the Bible and which should therefore be preserved.</li> <li>• The issue of penance was felt by both to mean "Be penitent" rather than "Do penance" and was therefore downgraded as a sacrament;</li> <li>• They argued bitterly over the nature of the Eucharist and failed to reach agreement at the Marburg Colloquy</li> <li>• Schwenkfeld argued that the sacrament be suspended altogether until agreement was reached.</li> </ul>	Adult baptism (Anabaptism) Example: Swiss Brethren. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The Radicals broadly accepted the views of Luther and Zwingli about the Sacraments, but they made their focus the issue of Baptism.</li> <li>• They argued that adult baptism was the only valid form, because being baptised as a child meant that you were not making an informed choice.</li> <li>• Luther, Zwingli and even Catholics found this utterly repugnant – opting out of baptism meant opting out of society (e.g. Hans Hut, Menno Simmons).</li> </ul>

Appearances	Images = Adiophora Luther and Zwingli both felt that images were a distraction from the main business of hearing the sermon. However, they felt that this was one of those things that were Adiophora (matters indifferent) and simply recommended that they be covered up.	Images = Iconoclasm Example: Zwickau Prophets, Thomas Muntzer, Karlstadt. The Radicals felt that images were sinful and should be destroyed (iconoclasm), even if this spiralled into riots and civil disorder. Luther and Zwingli felt that this was damaging to the fabric of society.

The Counter Reformation

- The Counter Reformation (also Catholic Reformation or Catholic Revival) denotes the period of Catholic revival from the pontificate of Pope Pius IV in 1560 to the close of the Thirty Years' War, 1648.
- The Catholic Reformation was a comprehensive effort, composed of five major elements:
  - 1) Doctrine
  - 2) Ecclesiastical or structural reconfiguration
  - 3) Religious orders
  - 4) Spiritual movements
  - 5) Political dimensions
- Such reforms included the foundation of seminaries for the proper training of priests in the spiritual life and the theological traditions of the Church, the reform of religious life by returning orders to their spiritual foundations, and new spiritual movements focusing on the devotional life and a personal relationship with Christ, including the Spanish mystics and the French school of spirituality.

Council of Trent

- The Council of Trent was the 19th Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church. It convened in Trent between December 13, 1545, and December 4, 1563 in twenty-five sessions for three periods.
- The council issued condemnations on what it defined as Protestant heresies and defined Church teachings in the areas of Scripture and Tradition, Original Sin, Justification, Sacraments, the Eucharist in Holy Mass and the veneration of saints. It issued numerous reform decrees. By specifying Catholic doctrine on salvation, the sacraments, and the Biblical canon, the Council was answering Protestant disputes.
- Many church reforms resulted, including banning the sale of indulgences.
- The church also engaged heavily in propaganda and banned many books considered blasphemous.

The Catholic use of Propaganda and Censorship

1. Propaganda (Catholic Reformation)

- Churches simplified their faith in catechisms, prints, pictures, plays and songs, and produced a vast amount of devotional material to win back support.
- Religious poems were produced by Tasso, Calderon, Southwell and Crashaw.
- Music with Catholic lyrics was produced by Palestrina and St. Philip Neri.
- Paintings on Catholic themes were produced by the likes of Titian's Mary Magdalen and Tintoretto's Last Supper (using dynamic perspective and chiaroscuro).

ORGANISATION / ABUSES (3rd meeting)

- Absenteeism banned. Anyone absent would have their wages taken from them and this money spent on the parish.
- Pluralism, simony and nepotism banned.
- Priests obliged to preach themselves or at the very least appoint a capable deputy, under threat of "severe penalties"
- Seminaries established in all dioceses to train priests - 10 year training course. But these were not to create forward thinkers, merely priests with a good grounding of scholastic knowledge.
- Bishop had to attend a provincial synod every 3 years, and have one in his own diocese every year.
- Pope's authority was also the Bishop's. Therefore no conflict of interest.
- Indulgence sellers and relic-pedlars banned.
- Censorship introduced.

Summary: The Impact of the Reformation

Pope Leo X
excommunicated Luther

- In the Roman church, a series of powerful popes including Leo X and Paul III responded to reform demands in various ways.
- The Church did conduct its own reform, a movement known as the Counter Reformation. This included an end to the practice of indulgences.
- However, it was too late to stop the spread of new Christian sects, such as Lutheranism, Presbyterianism, and Anglican.
- Ultimately, the Reformation created a north-south split in Europe. In general the northern countries become Protestant while the south remains Catholic.

New Protestant Churches

St. Bartholomew's Day
Massacre August 24, 1572

- Eventually, the Reformation brought about the establishment of several new "Protestant" churches (derived from protest) and literally shattered the religious unity of Western Europe, even causing wars within and between countries in Western Europe.

The Division of Christianity

Contrasting Protestant and Catholic Doctrine

Protestants	Catholic
Role of Bible emphasized	Bible + traditions of Middle Ages + papal pronouncements
"Priesthood of all believers" - all individuals equal before God. Sought clergy that preached.	Medieval view about special nature and role of the clergy.
Anglicans rejected pope's authority - monarch became Supreme Governor of the church. Lutherans rejected authority of the pope but kept bishops. Most Calvinists governed church by ministers and a group of elders, a system called Presbyterianism. Anabaptists rejected most forms of church governance in favor of congregational democracy.	Medieval hierarchy: believers, priests, bishops and pope.

Contrasting Protestant and Catholic Doctrine
Most Protestants denied efficacy of some or all of sacraments of the medieval church - the Eucharist (communion) most controversial.	All seven sacraments
Consubstantiation - Lutherans: bread and wine did not change but believer realizes presence of Christ is in the bread and wine. (Real Presence) Zwingli saw the event of communion as only symbolic - memorial to the actions of Christ, or thanksgiving for God's grant of salvation (main reason for break with Luther)	Transubstantiation - bread and wine retain outward appearances but are transformed into the body and blood of Christ.

Lutherans believed in Justification by faith - salvation cannot be earned and a good life is the fruit of faith. Calvinists: predestination; a good life could provide some proof of predestined salvation - "visible saints" or the "elect."	Salvation through living life according to Christian beliefs and participating in the practices of the church -- good works
Lutherans and Anglicans believed state controls the Church. Anabaptists believed church ignores the state.	Catholics and Calvinists believed church should control and absorb the state - theocracy.
Services emphasized the sermon	Services emphasized the Eucharist
